Professor: Dear colleagues, I am glad to have our new team members Tom and Peggy here. You will work with prof. Johnson. He has just finished the first stage of his project. But now, he wants to take it to the next level because he wants to connect computers with human mind. He has never worked with students so, please, be patient with him. He is a real science crazy.

Tom: Hello Mr Johnson, we are glad to meet you.

prof. Johnson: Dear students, I think you have never worked on things like these but it can be a life-changing experience for you. I want you to work hard and be creative.
